VOL. XXXI.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, MAY 22, 1903. 8 A M.

NO. 24

PROF. J. W. DAVIS.

The oratorical contest held at Middleburg Normal College on the evening of May 11, 1903, was decidedly interesting, especially to those who encourage physical and intellectual development among young men. The participants, young men, who, by this, their maiden effort in oratory, showed themselves capable of much eloquence, competed for first and second medals, the fortunate winners of which being Messrs. Everett Stroud and Eddie Wesley. Songs, drills, pantomimes and instrumental music furnished variety to the already pleasing program and a diversion to the large, appreciative audience which doubtless gave added inspiration to the young Richard Menefees, Thomas Marshalls, or even Henry Clays—for who can read the future?

Middleburg Normal College is under its present faculty at the zenith of its usefulness and at no time in its history could a more extended catalogue of its excellences be given or the fruits thereof be more deservedly expatiated upon.

Middleburg, abounding in pure air, fresh sparkling waters and varied pleasing scenery, is indeed a healthful location as the rosiest of its maidens and stalwartness of its youths attest. Nestling merrily in the bend of the river with its tiny church spires glistening, its neat frame houses inviting rest and hospitality, its bright-eyed children brimming over with songs and the joy of living, and over all the sweet melodious murmur of the silvery, foamy waters that sparkle and rush with resounding fall over the dam by the old grist mill, attuning even the most restless heart to its own plaintive music, soft contentment and constant endeavor.

Middleburg, on a pleasant May morning is indeed a scene for an artist's brush or an ideal type of one of Goldsmith's charming hamlets. Even at a distance the view is enhanced by Middleburg Normal College, a handsome brick building surmounting a slight eminence, by the ascension of which, one literally climbs the hill of knowledge and enters the portals of this most enterprising school. The building, large and admirably suited for a college, and surrounded by extensive grounds, commands a fine view and is pleasing to the eye. This College, always a thorough, effective and up-to-date institution, is now pre-eminently the centre of interest for a radius of many miles. Its Normal students, young men and women of earnest intent, fine character and irreproachable demeanor, meet daily with minds eager for each morsel of knowledge or experience proffered them and debate with avidity the questions of common interest constantly arising, the comprehensive and enthusiastic discussion of which is a most important factor of every live school.

Prof. J. W. Davis, the president of this College, has for three years steered wisely and successfully its course and has endeared himself in a remarkable degree to both pupils and parents. No better man for a Normal school could be found than Prof. Davis. Having completed a course of study at Urania Normal College, Glasgow, State College and afterwards at Southern Normal School, Bowling Green; he is equipped with his fine education, large experience, equable temper, persistence and yet patience and his power of self control as a masterhand at his craft and gifted with rare insight of the human character and heart, great persuasive ability, and the subtle yet necessary power of piercing that lethargy of indifference, carelessness, idleness or despondency which sometimes overcomes our youth; he arouses all to higher aims and greater heights. His energy, faithful work and the earnestness with which he imbues his specialties—preparation for county and State certificates—cannot fail of a bounteous harvest and Middleburg Normal College under his management may attain to glories yet undreamed. A strong force and admirable assistant in the work is Mrs. J. W. Davis, a most estimable woman in every respect, whose education under President John Augustus Williams, at Daughter's College, Harrodsburg, and later at Normal schools of note, together with her kindness of heart, ready sympathy, sociability, thorough methods and untiring patience render her peculiarly adapted for primary work—that most important yet most delicately difficult of all school work—the training of young and impressionable minds, and few indeed understand the art!

The departments of music and elocution too, have received new and unusual stimulus this past year from the teaching of Miss Angie Carpenter, who has long studied these special arts and will continue to pursue them under noted teachers, and whose unique methods, originality, magnetic enthusiasm and undragging energy are ever a source of inspiration to her pupils. Her work gives every evidence of unusual zeal and ability which were manifested by the splendid program of the oratorical contest.

Another important, edifying and entertaining feature of Middleburg Normal School's work is the Literary and Debating Society, whose successive meetings have shown the constant improvement of its members and whose open sessions afforded pleasing entertainment to Middleburg citizens. With the proceeds accrued from suppers from contests and from other stratagems for raising money, resorted to by its ingenious President, a fine library, containing volumes of ancient and modern classics, poetry, biography, travels and fiction, has been furnished to this institution and is continually being enlarged.

A charter, empowering its president to confer such degrees as other colleges usually grant, having been given, any student, young man or woman, may be assured that for thorough work, faithful instruction and most befitting results, Middleburg Normal School is the goal he is seeking, for with its location, its president, its previous fair history and very visible harvest of result, the prospects of this school are very flattering indeed. ## Reporter Who Bested Joe Jefferson.

Joseph Jefferson, the veteran actor, is very sensitive on the subject of his retirement from the stage. He has been before the foot lights since a small boy, and he has never shown any desire to leave it. The interviewer who puts the question of farewells to him gets a rather sharp but pleasant reply, but a reporter in the South recently got the best of him. The actor came down stairs at the hotel one morning and was much disturbed to find a long and mysteriously worded article in which the word retired was closely connected with his name. He knew the managing editor and made a half hearted complaint. The reporter was called in and asked where he got the story.

"The city editor told me to see Mr. Jefferson," said the young man, "and ask him if he was going to retire."

"Well did you see him?" said the editor.

"No sir," said the reporter, "I sent up my card to his room and it was sent back with this written on it: 'Mr. Jefferson has retired.'"

And then the actor who sleeps 20 years in every performance, took the reporter out and bought him a $5 hat.

A Startling Test.

To save a life, Dr. T. G. Merritt, of No. Mehoopany, Pa., made a startling test resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes, "A patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in 14 months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation and Kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50c at all druggists.

To clean a white straw hat, buy five cents' worth of salts of lemon and dissolve it in a pint of boiling water. Then take a soft brush—a nail brush will do nicely—and wash the hat with the liquid. When clean, rinse thoroughly in cold water and put in the air to dry, after which wash with peroxide of hydrogen.

Too Great A Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of cholera or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for any one to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. ## HUSTONVILLE.

Don't fail to attend the meeting of the stockholders of the Hustonville Fair Co. at this place next Saturday at 2 P. M. It is very important.

A most elegant 6 o'clock dinner was given Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McAfee and their charming visitor, Miss Nell Quick, by Miss Anna Reid at the home of her parents Tuesday evening. The menu consisting of many courses, was extremely elegant.

We are advised by phone from the Wayne county oil field that well No. 5 of the Beaver Creek Oil and Gas Co., was brought in Tuesday in the Beaver Creek sand at a depth of 460 feet, and the showing is that it is the best well on their lease. Field Manager Samuel Owens was present and is pushing the work of connecting No. 5 with their pumping plant and after he has re-cleaned Nos. 1 and 3, all five of the company's wells will be pumped regularly and the location made for drilling No. 6 and work on this will proceed as soon as the derrick and rig can be placed.

Rev. George A. Miller, of Covington, was greeted Monday night with a large, attentive audience. In addition to a most interesting sermon delivered in his inimitable style, there were two soprano solos by Miss Quick. Services will continue through this and next week, morning and night. The subject of Bro. Miller's sermon next Sunday morning will be "The Creed That Needs No Revision," night "Pitching Tents Toward Sodom." A special musical program will be arranged, including one, and if possible, two solos by the "Hoosier State's" sweet voiced soprano, Miss Quick.

Judge Boyle Stone and daughter, Miss Amanda, of Liberty, were visiting friends here this week. D. J. Newbern returned to Columbus, Miss., Tuesday after spending a few days at home in the Blue Grass. Mr. Charles Wheeler returned from the meeting of the Grand Council of I. O. F. M. of Kentucky at Mayesville delighted with the ovation given him upon his splendid rendition of "The Plea of Pocahontas" as a tenor solo. The exceeding popularity of this instantaneous hit is indicated by his getting orders for about 500 copies, with flattering prospects for doubling this amount by the time the piece comes from the press.

Frye & Greening have moved their brick plant from Danville to Lexington and expect within the coming week to be running full capacity, which will be 35,000 per day. Their smaller mill is running full time on their Eagle Creek track of timber near Cumberland Falls. They have about 60 men on their payroll and contracts covering their output for two years at a handsome margin. J. W. L. is the mayor of Hustlersville.

Local Option Most Effective.

There are only three states of the 17 which made the prohibition experiment that cling to the error of their way. Maine, the original anti-liquor state, still holds out, and with it are Kansas and North Dakota. But the others have gradually fallen from the ranks and substituted some form of local option or high license for state prohibition. The prohibition movement, which began half a century ago, came as a protest against the excessive drunkenness of the times. Indiscriminate tipping was becoming a serious menace to society. The evil was so great that fervent movement was aroused in opposition. The first temperance convention was held in Philadelphia in 1833. Nine years later the Sons of Temperance society was organized, and in 1849, with the arrival of Father Mathew, began the great temperance revival which resulted in the Maine prohibitory law in 1851, and spread throughout the north. In checking the excessive intemperance of the times this early prohibition movement proved of great value. But the states soon began to discover disadvantages in the scheme, which led them gradually to abandon it for other methods more reasonable and more effective. It was found to be impossible to enforce the statute in unwilling communities. In these it degenerated into a local option system, with the defects involved in the encouragement of cant and in the open disregard for the law. Most of the states, therefore, have preferred frankly to adopt the plan of local option as simpler, more effective and more wholesome to the community's morals.

At Richmond, Va., Rev. Henry Storey, Baptist minister, was burned to death and his wife was so severely burned that it is feared she will not recover.

MR. ROOSEVELT is not so handy with his pardons as some of his predecessors. Mr. McKinley, for instance. Especially to the pleas of murderers does he turn a deaf ear. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1901, President McKinley acted upon 343 petitions and granted executive clemency in 226 cases. The next year President Roosevelt considered 315 cases and granted executive clemency in 134. In 1901 President McKinley commuted the sentences of eight murderers. President Roosevelt saw fit to extend clemency to only two murderers for the fiscal year ended last June.

A NEW YORK woman sued a man for breach of promise and among other things alleged that he had kissed her 1,236 times. The jury awarded her $3,000 damages, or an average of $2.42 a kiss, a pretty steep amount no matter how tempting and sweet her lips may be. But the faithless lover gets off cheaply after all. Life is too short to keep count of kisses. Besides, kisses were never intended to be kept count of. "Love gives itself and is not bought," and kisses that are recorded, like so many nickles in a cash register, can hardly be conducive to the happiness of hubby.

THE statement is made that already 22 per cent of the Spanish-American war veterans have filed applications for pensions, and hundreds of others are being received every day. Patriotism seems to be measured only by the amount of pension that can be gouged out of the government.

DEVELOPMENTS in the get-rich-quick industry demonstrate once more that no divorce decree is necessary to procure the separation of a fool and his money. The prospect of robbing somebody else constitutes all the inducement necessary.

POLITICAL.

Hon. B. F. Jones, a steel magnate and once chairman of the republican national committee, died suddenly at Pittsburgh.

Hon. John G. Carlisle says the democratic party has an excellent opportunity to elect a president if the leaders get together.

John A. Black, a banker at Barbourville, and a brother of Hon. James D. Black, will likely be the republican candidate for State Treasurer.

The democrats of the legislative district embracing the counties of Breathitt, Lee and Magoffin have nominated Carl Day, of Breathitt, for representative.

Gov. Jeff Davis has announced himself a candidate for a third term and says he means to be re-elected as a vindication, because the legislature sought to impeach him, but was too cowardly to do so.

According to a dull-season story going the rounds of the Eastern press, Chief Justice Clark, of the North Carolina supreme court, is W. J. Bryan's choice for the democratic nomination for president.

Former Gov. Benton McMillen, after a visit to New York, declared the Empire State to be slipping away from Roosevelt and that with the nomination of a good, conservative man, the democrats should carry it at the next presidential election.

Hon. R. C. Warren, of Stanford, paid the News office a pleasant call. While in he was interrogated about the coming race for Congress and he said that he would again enter the fight and stay till the finish. He would make a splendid representative.—Danville News.

Hon. R. C. Warren, of Stanford, was in Danville looking after some legal matters. His many friends in this district are urging him to make the race for Congress and some think that he will run. It is time this section of the district had a representative and the Advocate knows of no better man than Mr. Warren.—Advocate.

Judge Saufley in the circuit court at Harrodsburg handed down an extensive opinion in the suit of Dr. Wm. P. Harvey and others against William C. Bell, Jr., and William C. Bell, Sr., sustaining the demurrer of the defendants to plaintiffs' petition. The suit was brought by Dr. Harvey and others seeking a construction of the will of William Payne, a wealthy merchant of that place, who died in 1890, leaving an estate valued at about $50,000. W. P. Harvey married a daughter and Wm. C. Bell, Sr., married a grand daughter of Wm. Payne, and the suit was to decide who owns the estate. By the terms of the decision, Wm. C. Bell, Jr., takes the entire estate and Dr. Harvey gets nothing whatever. The case will be appealed.

It seems that moral bluffing is easily worked on the West Enders. We haven't heard of Frye & Allen giving 21c for wool, but Lutes & Co. did pay that for some; and as to them getting 75 per cent. of the wool, will do for them to talk, but they can not show their books that way. LINCOLN county democrats gave Jesse M. Alverson a majority of 63 in his race for representative against M. F. North. Mares traded or removed from this county, forfeits the insurance and the money is due. J. R. BEAZLEY, Stanford, Ky.

ANTECARLO 2:26 1-2.

Made over Versailles track in winning race.

Sired by Anteo, 2:1654, that sold for $50,000 at public sale. 1st dam Mary Ann, by Halstorm, $15, son of Mambrino Patchen. These two crosses produced The Abbot, 2:034, champion trotting gelding of the world. 2nd dam by Independence, son of Andrew Jackson. Independence's dam by American Star. The American Star and Andrew Jackson blood is responsible for Crescus, 2:024, the champion trotting stallion of the world. You see Antecarlo's two top crosses are responsible for the fastest gelding, two next crosses are responsible for the fastest stallion. Then you see he is better bred than either of them for he has the blood of both.

Antecarlo is a solid brown horse, 1534 hands high, weighing 1,170 pounds, fine style and action. One of the best posted men on trotting horses writes of him as follows:

In regard to the stallion, Antecarlo 2:26 1-2 you bought of T. H. Smiley, I will say I worked him about 90 days in 1902 and I consider him one of the fastest trotters I ever drove, or in other words, about as fast as I ever saw. I have seen him trot a 200 yard timed by a prospective buyer. There never was a time while he was in my charge that he could not step a quarter of a mile to a cant. He does not need any extra rigging of any kind. J. O. McALLISTER.

He will make the present season at our sale barn at $15 to insure a living colt.

PENCE (Standard.)

Will also stand this well-known horse. He is too well-known to need comment. As a sire of high-class business horses, he has never been surpassed. Will stand at $20 to insure colt. Mares parted with after being bred to these horses forfeit insurance and money becomes due. Lien retained on colts until season is paid. E. H. BEAZLEY & Co.

DIGNITY DARE. COMBINED STALLION.

Foaled 1895, 15 3/4 hands high, weighs 1,200 pounds, mahogany bay with black points and a great deal in form with that wonderful style characteristic of the Chester Dare family so universally acknowledged as superior to all. As a show horse he has made a good record, winning in his class and in sweepstakes many blue ties. In his 3-year-old form Dignity Dare won 13 blue ties out of 14 shows in Central Kentucky. In harness he is very stylish, well gaited, with pure, decided action and with a little handling last fall stepped a 2.30 gait, a clip he made on show making him a harness horse of the highest type. Under saddle he is attractive, bold, with best of line action, speedy, separating his galts perfectly, with knee action necessary for an up-to-date sire. His colts, though young, are coming to the front and fast ranking him one of the best of breeders, which class bring sensational prices. His colts are large, rangy, with long, well-set neck, fine backs, broad, flat bone, with great action and best of colors. I respectfully invite you to call and inspect them before booking your mares.
